

Greg Anjewierden

Greg Anjewierden has spent his entire legal career doing healthcare law and insurance defense work. He has defended physicians, physician's assistants, nurses, CNAs, hospitals, clinics, dentists, oral surgeons, skilled nursing facilities, healthcare administrators, and others. As to his healthcare law work, he also provides full services to healthcare providers, including contract drafting, business entity formation, professional licensing defense, unemployment claims, collections, and commercial transactions. Greg has medical malpractice trial experience, and has successfully defended healthcare providers through trial. Greg also works as counsel for Utah Health Care Association and frequently lectures its members on risk-management topics.

In addition to healthcare law, Greg has worked on many other types of insurance defense cases, including personal and general liability defense, commercial liability defense, product liability defense, insurance coverage and professional licensing defense. Additional areas of practice include collections and employment law.

Greg holds an active Utah State Bar license in good standing, and is admitted to practice in all Utah state courts and the United States District Court for the District of Utah.

Rencher | Anjewierden

Rencher Anjewierden is led by its principals, Jaryl Rencher and Greg Anjewierden, who both have extensive experience defending clients in complex civil litigation in state and federal courts and administrative tribunals. The principals at Rencher Anjewierden have a long history of providing legal representation and defense for insurance companies and their clients. These include corporate boards and officers, HOA boards, real estate agents and brokers, title insurance companies, real estate developers, general contractors, architects, lenders, mortgage brokers, other attorneys, employers with workers compensation or wrongful termination claims, physicians, other healthcare providers, and companies or individuals facing claims under environmental and natural resource laws and regulations. All of the named principals and several other experienced attorneys have first chair trial experience in courts and administrative forums, with well over 200 successful trials combined.
